Part 2: Triumphal Islam

3. What was the first thing Muhammad did to begin the story of Islamic triumphalism? What did he do after that, which continued it?

The first thing Muhammad did to begin the story of Islamic triumphalism is conquer Arabia from c.622 to c632 AD. Next he wrote two letters to the neighboring (Byzantine and Persian) emperors telling them to “convert or be conquered. He died before those empires could be conquered, but he set the conquests in motion.

(3 pts: 1 pt for Arabia; 1 pt for letters; 1 pt for spelling and grammar)

4. What is Iberia? What does it have in common with India in the history of the Islamic world?

Iberia is a peninsula in southwestern Europe that includes Spain and Portugal today. Along with India, Iberia was invaded by Islamic armies c.711 AD in the early period of triumphal Islam. (3 pts: 1 pt for peninsula including Spain & Portugal; 1 pt invasion c.711 AD; 1 pt for spelling and grammar)

Part 3: The World Wars/ Disintegration

5. Where is Vienna? What is the importance of the failed siege of Vienna in Islamic history? When did the Ottoman Empire finally disintegrate?

Vienna is in Austria (in central Europe). The failed siege of Vienna in 1683 is a “turning point” in history, because after this event, Islamic armies continually lost ground, and triumphal Islam was in steady decline. The Ottoman Empire finally disintegrated during World War I (1914-19). (4 pts: 1 pt for Austria;; 1 pt for turning point; 1 pt for World War I, 1 pt for spelling and grammar)

Part 4: Disintegrated Islamic Culture and Islamism

6. Why is Ayatollah Khomeini important in Islamic history? What two events are most importantly connected to him?

Ayatollah Khomeini is important as the leader of the Iranian revolution, which began the period of Islamism, or the rebirth of Islamic triumphalism. The Iranian revolution is the first of two related events. The American hostage crisis is the second, in which terrorists took Americans hostage at the embassy in Tehran (the capital of Iran). (4 pts: 1 pt for leader of revolution/Islamism; 2 pts for revolution and hostage crisis; 1 pt for spelling and grammar)

Total Points This Page: 14 pts

7. What is Islamism? What are the two things it must overcome in the modern world to achieve a hope-for triumph?

Islamism is a modern idea based on the original triumphal Islam. It is an answer to the modern state of disintegration of Islamic culture that says that it is possible to return to triumphing over other cultures. The two great obstacles that Islamism must overcome are the advancement of technology in non-Islamic cultures and the presence of the United States as world police power. (4 pts: 1 pt for modern triumphalism; 1 pt for technology; 1 pt for America; 1 pt for spelling and grammar)
